

The Patient Identity System ensures accurate association of patient medical data with the correct patients. The PatientRecord class is a repository for all patient data. The PatientIdentifier class is directly linked to the PatientRecord class in the process of identifying patient data. The IdentityManager class handles identification discrepancies and ensures the integrity of patient records. It maintains accuracy and reliability of patient data by methods like `handleDiscrepancies()` and `validateRecordIntegrity()`.