The Alert Generation System has the AlertGenerator class in center, which evalueates data and generates alerts using the Alert class. Each alert contains a patient ID, condition and timestamp. Alerts existing in their own class adheres to the Single Responsibility Principle. AlertManager receives alerts and notifies staff. This separates alert generation from notififcation and making the system more adaptable.